A Literary Obituary.

The following item will be seen have been written by different persons, but all are written by one who would be apt to suppose that it was the production of one author.

LIFE.

Why all this talk for triumphs of an heir? Young life a short career—man is but a flower. By turns we catch the fatal breath and die. The cruel and the fond, alas! no sign.

TO BE BETTER FOR NOT TO BE.

Though all man's life is but a dream, To be better for not to be, is a dream. But light and shade speak when mightily things are done. The bottom is not shallow where they come.

YOUR FATE IS NOT THE BOTTOM FATE OF ALL.

Unmoulded joys here to man befall. Fortune to each a step his proper sphere. Fortune may follow his peculiar care. Custom does not often reason over.

AND THREE A CRY IN THE NIGHT.

Live well—how long or short permit me say. They who forget most live the longest day. Sin may be cheaped so close we cannot see. We interfere where virtue has no place.

THEN PRIDE BEHOLD US AS WE ARE.

Then pride behold us as we are. Then pride behold us as we are. Then pride behold us as we are. Then pride behold us as we are.

What is ambition? 'Tis a glorious chase.

What is ambition? 'Tis a glorious chase. What is ambition? 'Tis a glorious chase. What is ambition? 'Tis a glorious chase.

Oh, then, remember that impulse which drives.

Oh, then, remember that impulse which drives. Oh, then, remember that impulse which drives. Oh, then, remember that impulse which drives.

Riches have wings; and grandeur is a dream.

Riches have wings; and grandeur is a dream. Riches have wings; and grandeur is a dream. Riches have wings; and grandeur is a dream.

Think not wisdom who become to leave.

Think not wisdom who become to leave. Think not wisdom who become to leave. Think not wisdom who become to leave.

The path of glory lead but to the grave.

The path of glory lead but to the grave. The path of glory lead but to the grave. The path of glory lead but to the grave.

British and Foreign Notes.

During Captain Boynton's experiment at Bologna, after crossing the Straits of Dover, a deputation of fishermen presented him with a bouquet.

A Bill for the introduction of the ballot and woman's suffrage into the Isle of Man, has been read before the Manx Legislature. It is expected, however, that the proposal will meet with much opposition.

Mr. Darnley's reply to the question of Mr. Owen Lewis, relative to the recent gun, is mentioned with approval by the North German and National Gazette of Coblenz.

The Baltic Gazette says that a few days ago a young man came to a clergyman, and asked for a sum of money to go to Berlin and assassinate Prince Bismarck. The priest sagely shored him the door.

An international conference for telegraphy will be held at St. Petersburg on the 15th inst. Twenty-four national and twenty submarine companies are said to have agreed to send delegates to deliberate on a new telegraphic convention.

The receipts of the Paris Exposition continue to show a marked increase. Up to the end of February, they had an augmentation of 6,830,000 francs on the corresponding period of 1873. The end of March, the advance was $8,120,000 francs.

It is stated that the Italian Government, following the course it has already adopted on previous occasions, will gratuitously distribute this year 5,000 plants of the Shorea robusta, for cultivation in the Agropoli Regio, especially in the spot infected by malaria.

An express train on the Great Northern Railway, in England, recently took fire from the friction of the wheels. The discovery was first made by the passengers, who at once communicated with the driver, and stopped the train. They escaped only just in time, the carriage being destroyed.

The French Government has seized a number of paintings belonging to M. Courbet, the artist who sided with the Communists, and who caused the Vendôme Column to be pulled down. The pictures are to be sold, and the proceeds will go towards defraying the expense of re-erecting the column.

The Kreuz Zeitung says that the German Government endeavored to induce England, in January, 1874, and also after the accession of the present German Emperor, Belgium upon the fact of the Ultramarine agitation going on in that kingdom. England both times declined to remonstrate with Belgium.

The rights of free citizenship, as in the City of London, devolve by patrimony in many of the German States. At Cologne, in the canton of Berne, a town of about 3,000 inhabitants, registers more than 17,000 freemen on its rolls. In other smaller localities, in the same canton, counts over 14,000 citizens in a similar category.

The walnut tree is proverbially long-lived, and an extraordinary instance is noted at Bonville, a village at the foot of the Vosges. An old walnut tree, whose age is estimated at 200 and 400 years, is still in a flourishing condition. Its trunk measures over twenty feet in circumference, and notwithstanding its great age, it produced last year over fifty bushels of walnuts.

Under a bill to be immediately introduced by the Government of Prussia, convicts must be closed within six months, those the occupants of which keep schools and hospitals being allowed a respite which may be extended to two years. Their entire property will be sequestrated, and those monks and nuns who brought any property to the convents upon entering Holy Orders will have their property seized, and those who are too old or too weak to work for their maintenance will be pensioned.

Generals de Brialmont and de Brialmont, to draw a maximum of recruits at the Paris Exposition, and the Director, M. Offenbach, gravely announces that towards the end of the summer it must be withdrawn in order to make the necessary preparations for the new opera of Brialmont and Offenbach, "Don Quixotte," which is intended to form the wider popularity. Among the many wonderful things which have been introduced into "Don Quixotte" is a flock of sheep, which, browsing and bleating in the mountains, are to be driven by the sword of the Knight of La Mancha. These sheep, which have already arrived into "property," are said to be marvelous of mechanism.

In Queensland, a short time ago, a rail-road train was lifted off the rails by the force of the wind, the passengers being considerably shaken, though fortunately none of them were killed. The train was spotted where the centre car was pitched over an embankment. The consequences, however, were sufficiently alarming to the passengers, who were next to the engine, turned over on its side, and the composite carriage that followed it, in perfect order, the same evolution, telescoped into the end of the saloon. The carriage next in order settled at an angle of about 60°, while the remaining carriage precipitated from the track came to a stop "in all sorts of positions."

A French physician has reported to the Académie des Sciences a form of paralysis peculiar to telegraph operators. The phenomenon is thus described:—"An employee who had been engaged for years in a telegraph office found that he could not form clearly the letters I, represented by two dots and a stroke; J, by two dots; and S, by three dots. On trying to write the letters he had become stiff and cramped, and he then endeavored to use his thumb alone, and this succeeded for a short time, when his thumb was similarly attacked, and subsequently he lost his second and third fingers, but in two months these were also paralyzed." Finally he had recourse to the knife, which also finally became disabled. If he forced himself to use his hand, his whole arm and the side of his body trembled violently, and cerebral convulsions ensued. This disorder is reported to be common among telegraph clerks, and to arise from the constant stretching of the same muscles in a persevering occupation.

It is a strong testimony to the popularity and usefulness of the Intelligencer that it has been so long a favorite with the public. It is well known that the full name "The Intelligencer" is printed on the margin and blown in the glass. Our long-continued readers will recognize the name, and will be glad to protect the public, if only a little care is used. This article of imitation is paid to all merit and successful preparation.

Over exertion, either of body or mind, produces illness and disease. The remedy is to take some stimulant, the effect of which is to give a third hour, the whole system of life. The system with a permanent tonic like the Peruvian Syrup, (a preparation of Irupe) which gives strength and vigor to the whole system.

What passed during that long twelve-hour journey has never transpired. Cicely was quiet, may almost absent during dinner. Nor was there any conference between friends that night in Evelyn's house. The latter chided her friend gently for running such desperate risks the next day, told her that Hinton had spoken so high of her riding that she really feared she came there to steal her sweetheart. Cicely smiled, and told her Hinton was more likely to be chagrined because she had fled stolen away from him. And when a was over and dinner discussed next day entered into the Christmas gambols irregularly than any child present—and her name was legior—and declared when she kissed Evelyn, and departed a few days subsequently, that it was the jolliest Christmas she had ever spent.

Within a month of that she was a bride at the altar. Hinton was her bridegroom, and poor Evelyn, the another year or so round, was in the churchyard, whither old Squire soon followed her. And Evelyn has long since ceased to hold a merry Christmas tale. English papers.

The following extract we take from New York Independent, and commend the careful consideration of the boys young men who are among our readers:

"The first thousand dollars that a young man, after going out into the world to for himself, earns and saves, will generally settle the question of business life with him. There may be exceptions to this statement. Yet for a rule, we think it will hold true. The first condition is that, the young man actually earns the thousand dollars in a year. He does not inherit this sum, it is gained to him by his own efforts, and the result of a fortunate venture in the purchase and sale of a hundred shares of stock; it is the fruit of personal industry. He gives his time and labor for it. Yet he is thus earning and saving it. He can earn two or three times or perhaps ten times as much to pay his current expenses. He is consequently held sternly to the task, industry—patient, persistent, foreworn and self-denying effort, breaking up all tendencies to indolence and frivolity, making him an earnest and watchful student of time. He not only learns to work, but he also acquires the love of work, and moreover, he learns the value sum which he has thus saved out of earnings. He has toiled for it; he has served its slow increase from time to time and in his estimate it represents months or years of practical labor. Ideas of life are shaped by his own experience. These natural effects of earning first thousand dollars we hold to be large benefits. They are just the quality of mind and body which are most likely to insure business success in after years. They constitute the practical education which man can have as a worker in this world. They are gained in reason for purposes of the opening period, just there are wanted, when foolish notions most likely to mislead an inexperienced man, and when, too, there is a full opportunity for expansion and development later years. Men have but one life to live, and hence they start from opening manhood but once. And the manner in which they start, the purposes they have in view, the habits they form, will ordinarily determine the entire sequel of their career on earth. To succeed, men must have elements of success in themselves. The great reason why there are so many inefficient and poverty-stricken men in this world—or rather, boys seeming to be men—is that they have not these elements.

consists in the simple fact that they do not stand right. A prominent reason why the children of the rich so frequently fail to get along, may be found in the luxury, and indolence which marked the environment of their lives. It is the law of that we should be workers on earth; at one so well consults the best development of his being as when he conforms his life to this law. The workers in some of the noblest spheres are the only really strong in this world."

A Chapter on Spring.

Of all the seasons spring is the coquettish. She is like the vine-rose stopped and kiased the sloping post in the tree, who still slept on his dream different dream. The earth was his conscious that spring had come till the sikes dropped ethereal mildness (Thomson) on her bosom. It is indeed the when the young, the rosy spring gives the breeze her scented wing (Anagnin).

May is gaily mated with all the fa-flowers and forest birds the earth be-forth (Spencer). Well was it obser-that like an army defeated the snow retreated (Woodworth) and that the fi-with flowers are in every hue (Drummond).

then, we must not go out just yet to them. The swallow also brings us season of vernal delight, with his bal-of sable and his belly of white (Al-muta), and there are daffodils which before the swallow darts and take the
of March with beauty (Shakespeare),
the spring a brighter crimson burns
the robin's breast (Pennington), and young man's tawny lightly turns thoughts of love (Ibid). Now is heard sound of vernal showers on the twink-ground (Shelly), and with his umbrella we forth the hyacinth and May bloom (Emerson).
well might break and May bloom (Emerson).

...the orchards full of blossoms and (Lowell), and the maiden may return a pretty lass (Barry Cornwall). Now the majority of intelligent people think better to sport with Amaryllis in the
 with the tangles of Neera's hair (Carton), than to creep into some still cave deep, there to weep, and weep, and (Tennyson). All these and many of things do we see and enjoy, now that ap-has broken the icy fetters of the streams (Wilkebarre special de-itch).
 all nature rejoices that grim-visaged Mi-has smothered his frosty pow (Burns Shakespeare). Spring! beautiful ap-has amused with birds and flowers (national), and new fashionable styles in bonnets, dresses (advertisements), influenza and catarrhs and hundreds of other things make business lively. Much might be said of spring, but her lovely, bowitching smiles show that at last she has consented to speak for herself.

Coroner's Verdict on the Schiller Disaster.

The Times on the Rumors of Trouble in Europe.

London, May 11.—The verdict of the coroner's jury on the victims of the Schiller disaster yesterday was "found drowned," not "accidentally drowned," as reported yesterday.

The Times in a leading editorial says: "We believe the case is resolved to most decided language in favor of the maintenance of peace, and the use of every effort to put a stop to the present alarm."

A few days will probably bring forth official declarations of recent reports. It is possible that it will be said that there is nothing to justify French apprehensions, but there should be no mistake on this point.

As long as present conditions remain there must be uneasiness, even danger. An unfriendly and unkind manner of jealousy, but there should be no mistake on this point.

FRIDAY, MAY 14, 1875.

Town and Vicinity.

REMOVED.—Dr. William has removed one of A. L. Bogue, Esq., Pinnel Street.

ATTENTION.—The undersigned, who has been appointed by the Court of Sessions to receive the same, will hold his first meeting on the 20th.

HUNTER.—The assessment's returns for this village for the current year show an increase of $50,000 in the valuation of property over that of last year. The population is nearly 7,000; that of last year was 6,500.

LEWIS.—Rev. W. B. Atwell will deliver his promised lecture on temperance in the Town Hall this evening. The reputation of the Rev. gentleman as a temperance orator ought to attract a large audience, and his lecture will be highly interesting and instructive.

PETERBOROUGH.—The assessment's

returns for this year are $24,543,163,

an increase of $10,363 over last year.

Population 7,055, being an increase of 242.

Including the Village of Ashburnham,

the population is 8,200.

HALLOW.—The citizen-bank here has been closed half-an-hour today, as a mark of respect to the memory of the late

Governor Crawford. The bank was unfortunately broken after the flag had been up for a few minutes.

BYE-PAY.—A valuable article, which was exhibited for sale on the market this morning. It was of the species known as "cham nele," and weighed from 15 to 20 pounds being the largest fish of the kind seen for some time.

VICTORIA.—The Victoria ship, which was wrecked on the coast of Victoria, has been raised, and is now being transported to the Victoria wharf, where it will be exhibited for sale.

WOMEN'S SENSATION.—Of this variety

there, which will appear in the Metropolitan Hall to-morrow night, a

Black and White play, which will be exhibited for sale on the market this morning. It was of the species known as "chamnele," and weighed from 15 to 20 pounds, being the largest fish of the kind seen for

some time.

KILL TREN.—The anglers ought to be encouraged in their labor of killing the mosquito, which follows the picknet into the river, and then to the spawning beds, and there eat up the spawn which has been deposited. Every mud-will in this way get up several thousands of picknet, these destroyers ought to be encouraged in their labor to be destroyed.

COLUMBIAN CRUISE.—There seems to be a good deal of difference of opinion among the people as to the proper color of the flag of the English, although most of them seem to recommend that the color should be used. On one point they all seem to agree pretty closely, and that is that the color of the flag should be reduced to 14

inches, which would render it more easily

seen, and would also be more easily

seen, and would also be more easily

seen, and would also be more easily

seen, and would also be more easily

seen, and would also be more easily

Agricultural and Domestic.
ABOUT THE VEGETABLE GARDEN.

Excellent quality in vegetables can only be secured through rapid growth. Taking this as a basis of operation, the necessity of a rich, congenial soil becomes apparent, even to those who have had no experience in the culture of the various kinds of plants in our gardens. Tough, stringy roots, bitter, lathery lettuce, and similar ailments, are signs of a poor soil, and a poor soil is a poor soil for all sorts of vegetables. For the first few years a newly cleared and fertile soil will grow almost anything, but the rich soil soon shows signs of deterioration if constantly cultivated, and the use of fertilizers are made to it, as is usual in newly settled portions of the country.

It is always better to apply all kinds of coarse manure, such as obtained from the barnyard, to the vegetable garden, than the autumn, but if one does not have it at that time, and can supply the deficiency in the spring, then an early application is preferable to late one. The manure thrown out from the stable during the winter is usually very coarse, containing more or less straw, corn stalks, and similar material, and is of little value as a fertilizer until thoroughly decomposed. Besides, if the attempt is made to incorporate them with the soil, they always interfere with the growth of the plants, and the manure is lost. The best way to avoid such an inconvenience is to fork over the manure in the barnyard as soon as the weather will permit in spring, separating the coarse portion from the fine, placing the two in long rows by itself. The first can be used for the vegetable garden, or for other crops to which it is best adapted, enjoying the other for potatoes, corn, or other crops to which it is not wanted for any such purpose, leave it in heaps, and by forking over two or three times during the summer, it will become well rotted in time for use the next fall.

We have never experienced any difficulty in thoroughly rotting the coarsest kind of corn stalks in one summer, by forking over occasionally and keeping in large piles, which would take up instead of absorbing water.

Old manure is also better than new on account of its containing a large quantity of roots which are in a condition to rot; but if land is not rich in potash, it is better to produce a good crop of weeds, whether any roots are introduced with fertilizers or not, and we have seen a rich soil enough to produce a crop of weeds that did not also produce the ever-accompanying pests.

In the hurry of spring work the preparation of the ground to be used for vegetables is very likely to be slighted, and one ploughing will not do it. Two or three ploughings will insure a better result. The manure should be applied early, and if in time to leave the spring runs, the manure should be applied to the soil, so much the better; then plough under as soon as the ground is dry enough to work readily. Harrow the cross-plough, then harrow again just before commencing to sow seed or set out plants. Two ploughings and two or three harrows will insure a pretty thorough distribution of the manure applied, as well as a preparation, without which, good results cannot be secured.

Chay stalks which do not readily break down under the harrow should be rolled, in order to crush the limbs and make the surface friable; in fact, the more they are broken up in preparing the land for a crop, the less will be required in after culture; besides, it is a much easier to do with a team than by hand labor.

If roots are to be grown for stock, such as carrots and turnips, which are to be sown later in the season, the land should be prepared, or at least a commencement made early, permitting the weeds to grow to the surface to start, as they generally will; then harrow and destroy them before putting in the crop. If land is not prepared for late turnips can be sown and ploughed in spring, and then kept under cultivation during the summer, it will be all the better for this extra preparation.

Now, to sum up this subject of vegetable culture, we may put the following in a nutshell: 1. A poor soil; 2. In the seed; 3. Neglect in sowing; 4. A poor soil; 5. Neglect in sowing; 6. of the Finance Committee, that sundry accounts be paid.

On motion, the report was received.

Mr. Simpson moved the third reading and passing of the Bonus By-law, which was accordingly passed, and numbered 333.

WAYS AND MEANS.

Council went into Committee on Ways and Means—Mr. Hullen in the chair—and adopted the Finance Committee's report.

Mr. Pahey moved, seconded by Mr. Denmark, that the Chief Engineer of the Fire Department be authorized to hire a Band for the Regiment's parade on the 24th. Carried.

Mr. Clarke moved, seconded by Mr. Simpson, that the Chairman of the Harbor Commission be instructed to communicate with parties owning dredges for sale, with a view to purchasing.

Mr. J. H. Hambley suggested the striking out of the words "with a view to purchasing."

Mr. Harrell asked what was the depth of water at the wharves?

Mr. Holden said a vessel had got aground a few days ago, and the Harbor Master was kind to let her go without paying dues. This was very ~~happy~~ <sup>fortunate</sup>, as it would scarcely be profitable.

Mr. Marshall objected that the matter should be taken out of the hands of the Town Solicitor, whose duty it was to carry on the town's business, for which he was paid a liberal salary.

Mr. Sutherland said that as Mr. Douglas had fought out a battle on the same subject before, and, he thoroughly understanding the matter, it was their duty to secure his services. They should protect the interests of the town, and prevent their rights being infringed upon by the State.

Mr. Marshall said if their Solicitor was more competent, then they should dispense with his services, and pay his salary to Mr. Houston, if he were more competent. He wished to see justice done by Mr. Crunk, as well as by Mr. Houston.

Mr. Sutherland did not see why Mr. Cronk should be allowed to gobbly up any nice spot which he chose, and in acknowledging the interests of the Town, he did not ask for more than they were entitled in a court of law.

Mr. Paesley said that on the strength of a letter from the Solicitor, that "proceedings were taken." He considered that the Solicitor was in the wrong, and that it was not proper to him that the said letter should be appointed to assist him. It would be better that the property belongs to the Town, and that they ought to get possession of it. If Mr. Harford wished to reduce the Solicitor's salary, or to abolish the office, he should introduce a Bill-law. He suggested the obtaining of legal opinion on the merits of the case, which would be much more satisfactory to him.

Mr. Harford wished it to be understood that he did not wish to move against the Solicitor unless he were derelict in his duty.

Daily Intelligencer.

THURSDAY, MAY 27, 1875.

Town and Vicinity.

MEANS.—The latest arrival of the herald of fine weather is the hand organ, who is in full blossom in the street today.

PERSONAL.—Dr. Workman, of Toronto, and Dr. Deacon, of the Rockton Lunatic Asylum, are in town. They were to examine the convict Maudslayi this afternoon.

COUNTY GRANGE LODGE.—The semi-annual meeting of the County Grange Lodge for St. Hastings will be held in the Lodge Room, Belleville, on the 8th of June.

COURT OF REVISION.—The first sitting of this Court was held last night, when about twelve or thirteen cases were heard. No decisions were given. The Court will not decide until all the cases are disposed of.

FAVORITE.—The yacht Fun is expected to arrive here within a few days. As the three requested visitors, Mr. Toole, Mr. Toole, and Mr. Toole, are in the regatta here, she will be a great acquisition to our fleet.

NOT CREDITABLE.—It is not at all creditable to the circus people that, after tearing up a portion of the sidewalk on Front Street to get their wagons on the street, they did not replace the boards.

TOOLE.—The great English comedian, Mr. J. L. Toole, will appear here in a round of his favorite characters on Tuesday and Wednesday evening. Mr. Toole will be supported by Mr. W. Herbert and Miss Eliza Johnston, of the principal English theatre, and by a company made up of several of the leading members of Mrs. Morrison's Grand Opera House Company. Seats may be secured at Messrs. Koller & Lott's.

A REQUEST.—It has been suggested that a request for second-class tickets up for Dominion Day, to be sailed over the usual course. We mention the matter as a suggestion to St. George's and St. Andrew's Societies, which have engaged the ferry steamer for an excursion on that day. A request, properly managed, would increase their receipts and afford amusement to the public generally.

BOARD OF HEALTH.—We are frequently asked the question, "What is the Board of Health doing?" To which query, not being officially informed, a satisfactory answer cannot be given. However, they have done nothing which has come under our notice, although we have pointed out to the Board nuisances which ought to have been abated long ago, but which are still as bad as ever. Their proclamations have had little effect, but yet none of the delinquents have been brought into Court. Better things had been looked for from the Board, but so far they have fallen in point of activity far behind the Boards of other years, although numerically stronger and with greater powers vested in them.

A COOL REQUEST.—Peter Conley is a refreshing individual to meet this hot weather. After remaining here last night for the express purpose of leaving a man against whom he had an old grudge, partially settled in his design, and being fined $5 and costs ($7 in all), Peter had the common sense to ask the man whom he had been to leave him the money to pay the fine. A cooler request it would be difficult to imagine, and it is almost useless to say, it was not granted. Peter is a perfect iceberg, and if he would but take up his residence here, we'd like to sit near such a cold individual occasionally in the month of July.

DEADLINE.—The drainage of our town is in a lamentably bad condition, and the Street Committee, although appropriations have been passed, seem rather slow in moving. As the hot weather is now upon us, it is necessary, in the interest of the public health, that something should be done, and that speedily, as water very soon becomes offensive and harmful to the health in this heated season. Perhaps as bad a spot as there is in the town is Church Street, between Dundas and Bridge Streets, where a large quantity of water is lying stagnant in a populous locality. A long complaint has been made for draining this street, and we trust that as early commencement of work will be made.

OPENING NEW STREETS.—Our attention has been called to the Municipal Act, relating to the opening of streets (Chap. V., sec. 404, &c.) by which the power to pass a By-law to open a new street is made dependent on the effect of a petition to the Council of at least two-thirds the number, and one-half of the value of the property to be directly benefited. It is scarcely without the passage of the By-law would be illegal. Power is also given to the Council by sub-section 1 to cause a By-law to be amended and determine what part of the property will be benefited by the opening of a new street, and assess the owners in such proportion as may be de-

Grasshopper Plague in Kansas.

GRASSHOPPER PLAGUE IN KANSAS.—This was an action brought by J. B. Flint against defendants, who reside in Toronto, for a buggy—the plaintiff claiming the same under a chattel mortgage. A verdict was rendered for the plaintiff in the Court below, and a writ of certiorari was granted to set aside the verdict and enter a non-suit was discharged by the Judge of the County Court. From this judgment the defendant appealed to the Court of Queen's Bench, which Court gave judgment, dismissing the appeal from the learned Judge's decision, with costs to be paid by appellant. Critchmore for J. B. Flint; McDougall for Grant.

ERIE RAILWAY.

A DESPERADO SHOT.—St. Louis, May 27.—A special despatch to the Hydopole, from Kansas City, says that 300 farmers, of Jackson county, met at Independence today, to devise means of relief to the destitute and suffering. Reports from all parts of the country were received, and the meeting resolved to issue a circular calling on the people of the county to assist helpless farmers who are cutting down trees for their stock to eat their leaves, straw being left for the cattle. One farmer said that half of the farmers would be objects of charity within three months.

CHICAGO, May 27.—A fire broke out this morning in Lobbey's elevator, Brooklyn, Iowa, which consumed that building, together with the warehouse of Messrs. Lobbey and W. E. Small, (Columbia's lumber yard) and a number of small buildings. Loss $300,000.

NEW YORK, May 27.—Last night Henry Kirk, private watchman, shot and killed John McKenna, aged 14 years, in Twelfth street, for teasing him. Kirk was arrested and locked up.

BOSTON, May 27.—A despatch to the Herold from Arlington, Mass., states that the yacht Edith captured on the lake yesterday by a gust of wind, and S. P. Prentiss and a young lady, named Maria Hill, Laura Sand, Mary Rosta, and Alice and Minnie Wellington were thrown into the water. Alice and Minnie Wellington were drowned; Prentiss kept the other ladies afloat until rescued.

NEW YORK, May 27.—Comment on the Edith situation, this morning, is favorable to yesterday's action. One of the most important results of the present proceedings will be the ability of the President, by relieving it of a load of interest on its mortgages, to compete successfully with other trunk lines which have interest and dividends to pay on bonds and capital stock, and also enable the management to pay current expenses promptly. It is stated that among the first actions will be the payment of arrears due employees.

LINCOLN, Neb., May 27.—Wm. McWaters, a convict who figured so prominently in the recent State Prison riot, was executed yesterday to institute another movement of the same kind, and was shot and instantly killed by the guard.
